Return Reference	Explanation
Part I Line 4b	The related organization has an executive 457b deferred compensation retirement plan for the benefit of certain employees. It is employee funded, not employer funded, and maintained primarily for the purpose of providing deferred compensation benefits for a select group of management or highly compensated employees under Sections 2012, 301a3, and 401a1 of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. The related organization also has a nonqualified 457f supplemental income retirement plan for the benefit of certain executives. The related organization decides the benefit amount and timeframe for vesting of each participant. Service costs included in deferred compensation are actuarially determined under FASB ASC 715. The 457f plan is designed to supplement the current tax qualified defined benefit pension plan where current limitations on benefits and employer contributions may be inadequate, and an employer-sponsored supplemental income plan can best provide these select employees with the appropriate amount of income continuation in the specific desired circumstances. During 2015, Wayne LaPierre vested in 457f plan participation after reaching a scheduled milestone and received a taxable payout of 3,767,345 from the related organization. Mr. LaPierres one-time payment was his first and will be his only payout from the 457f deferred compensation plan, and it occurred after 36 years of continuous service to the related organization, which has included 25 years as its top executive. The taxable amount has been properly included as taxable compensation and reported in Schedule J, Part II, Column Biii, and in Form 990, Part VII, Column D.
Part II	Column Biii Other reportable compensation in taxable wages includes 457b, fringe auto, group life insurance benefits, and 457f payout if applicable. Column C represents benefits that will not be paid until the future and includes the employer paid portions of the NRA defined benefit pension plan and 401k plan. The organization takes a full transparency posture for executive compensation paid by the related organization.
Part I Line 3	This organization relied on the processes of a related organization to establish compensation of top management officials, and such processes utilized a compensation committee, independent compensation consultants, compensation surveys and studies, comparability data, and ultimate approval by the board or compensation committee.
